DEDICATION TO MY MOTHER

Faye Louise Webber

(3/10/2000)

Let's walk down memory lane with my mother

My memory of her love for others starts with my father

her children

her relatives

her neighbors & people at her church her main love was for Jesus

Starts with my father

The times in the nursing home when they would walk hand in hand with each other through the hallways

After her recent hip surgery, my father and I were in her room and she asked my father to come next to her

He held her hand and she said, "Come closer and give me a kiss"

He did and her reply after that was, it's about time!

My father and I laughed and we thought that was so cute

For her children

She was always there when we got home from school Always know at 5:00 o'clock there would be a home cooked dinner waiting for you Made sure we went to church and she would talk to us about the Lord

For her relatives

You always knew when our relatives from Maryland would come in, because she would make her favorite home cooked vegetable soup and rolls to feed them after there long trip

For her neighbors & people at her church

Always would try to find something nice about a person
Some of the phrases I can remember her saying would be:
Your hair looks so nice or what a nice outfit you have on today

But her main love was for Jesus

She would like us to sing Amazing Grace

I can remember at the age of 12, having the kids from our neighbor in Cheviot over in our backyard and she would tell us Bible stories, sing songs, teach us memory verses and the books of the bible

Lets pretend right now we are in the backyard with her singing one of her favorite songs: Trust and Obey

Her comment would be, make sure you pay attention to the words of this song. (Start with the chorus first)

One of her favorite verses was: Proverbs 22:6 Train up a child in the way he should go and when it is old, he will not depart from it

It all started with my mother reading her bible and finding this verse and teaching her kids about Jesus and the word of God

So from that verse it was passed on to her children, to be passed on to her grandchildren and now her great-grandchildren

My mother loved her Bible, so today as a keepsake I am giving a bible to each of her grandchildren & great-grandchildren in memory of her

I cannot wait until the day when my children, Jacob and Serena pull their bible out of there own keepsake box, look in side and read: “In memory of Grandma Webber”, and want to know all about Grandma Webber. Then I can tell them how much she loved Jesus and the Word of God

In closing

Mom told me she would be here a short time but, what you do for Christ will last

Mom, thanks for telling me and others about Jesus
